DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rodgers in view of Bersonnet.

Rodgers discloses an elliptical trainer device having a pair of pivotal bars 48, a wheel 22, means for coupling the bars to the wheel, and a brake mechanism 26, and a switch control means 105 mounted proximal to the bars.

Bersonnet discloses a switch means which is mounted to the handle of an exercise apparatus. Given this teaching, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to mount the Rodgers switch to one of the handles of the bars for safety purposes.

Clearly, the Rodgers control console necessitates a driver circuit or control board to actuate the Rodgers brake 26; therefore, although not expressly stated, it would have been obvious to employ the necessary control circuit to utilize the brake means.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 3-16-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 3764

Applicant's attorney argues that the Rodger's switch is not disposed on the handle portion, and that the Bersonnet switch is disposed on a stationary handle.

4. In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986). Collectively, the examiner contends that, given Bersonnet's teaching of a switch located on the handle member of an exercise device, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide a switch on the Rodgers handle portion for easier access to the controls and therefore for safety purposes as suggested by Bersonnet.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
